Three Day Battle Takes Big Toll
On Forces

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters landed 400 American Air Cavalrymen on a battle-ground north of Saigon this afternoon to reinforce South Vietnamese commandos battered for three days by North Vietnamese troops.

At least 26 of the South Vietnamese troops were reported killed, 120 were wounded and 17 were missing. Four American Green Beret advisers with the South Vietnamese also were wounded.

The number of North Vietnamese killed was not known yet. Officers in the field said allied forces had been unable to sweep the battlefield because "every time we go out we get in trouble."

The fighting began Sunday when about 400 South Vietnamese commandos ran across a base camp of an enemy division 85 miles northeast of Saigon in jungled hills. The camp was 18 miles east of Song Be, a provincial capital the enemy division had been threatening.

The North Vietnamese struck back from all sides as the South Vietnamese came in.

Helicopters flew in 400 fresh commandos to reinforce the embattled battalion. On Monday the South Vietnamese tried to push back into the area of Sunday's fighting but again ran into strong resistance.

Louisiana Accidents Claim 21

At least 21 persons died in Louisiana accidents during the four-day Labor Day weekend. Fourteen died in traffic mishaps, six drowned and one man was electrocuted.

Joseph Mancuso of New Orleans was the latest reported traffic fatality. Police said he was killed when his car overturned on state highway 18 near Donaldsonville Monday.

One of the victims was 22-month-old Kenneth James Authement of Chauvin, who drowned in a water-filled drainage ditch near his home Saturday.

Two youths were drowned in the Ouachita River in Morehouse Parish Monday evening.

ALLEN ELECTED HEAD OF BOARD

By GWEN STEWART

Carl H. Allen, Elton, was elected chairman of the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors this morning though board members were again told Gov. McKeithen last week expressed the desire that Frank J. (Tickle) Saia, Baton Rouge, be named to the post.

Spencer Myrick, Oak Grove, told board members he was called to the governor's office last week where he learned that the governor still desires to have Saia made chairman of the body.

Asked if Myrick learned this in a personal conversation with the governor, he replied that he was called to the governor's office where he heard the governor mention to other individuals that he wished that Saia be named to the post.

McKeithen named Saia to the board in July, 1968, to replace J. B. Rawlings. An attempt to have him elected chairman was defeated at a meeting of the board last August.

At that time Saia told the board, "I am here because the governor wants me here. I am holding this commission in my hand and I don't know how many of you sitting here will be sitting here in September."

He continued, "Now, if you want to defy the governor, you can. I am not. I am here for the governor. I work for the governor."

Saia was not present at this morning's meeting, but Myrick told other board members of what he learned at the governor's office last week; then abstained from voting for Allen. Allen was elected at today's meet-

Pop Festival Comes To a Happy Ending

PRAIRIEVILLE—The New Orleans Pop Festival here came to a happy ending in the early morning hours today after three days of scheduled appearances by some of the nation's top rock groups.

A jam session at 1 a.m. today wrapped up the slate of scheduled performers and then the thousands of rock music fans present for the event began leaving the Baton Rouge International Speedway. The session ended at 3 a.m., but at least 300 remained on the grounds at 7:30 a.m.

Law enforcement officials, estimating the crowd at up to 30,000 persons, reported a total of 37 arrests on charges of sale or possession of narcotics. Officials said they were pleased to report that there hadn't been any major trouble at one of the largest events of this type in the nation.

The fans again behaved well yesterday as the crowd slowly built up to its nighttime peak.

Dr. Donald R. Vesley, a physician hired by the festival officials, said injuries were mostly in the cuts category, resulting from broken glass on the speedway grounds, and mosquito and chigger bites.

Vesley treated some of the festival patrons for the effects of drugs, but said of the 15 to 20 such cases all walked out of the medical facility "... on their own power within about two hours."

Though yesterday's crowd was somewhat smaller (than the day before, the fans had lost little of their enthusiasm and (Continued on Page 6-A, Col. 2)

KENNEDY LEGAL MOVES AWAITED

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP)

The next move by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's lawyers was the top question today on the eve of an inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne.

The attorneys already have challenged a ruling that they will not be permitted to cross-examine witnesses. Whether they would appeal to a higher court remained a secret.

All were mum throughout the long Labor Day weekend although there were published reports in Boston that they were discussing strategy behind closed doors.

The District Court inquest starting Wednesday will be conducted by Judge James A. Boyle, 62, a man of quiet temperament but firm on the bench.

Tightened security was in evidence in this normally quiet vacation spot on Martha's Vineyard Island. At least nine state troopers and some two dozen officers from other towns were brought in to help the small Edgartown force.

Miss Kopechne, 28, a Washington secretary, was killed the night of July 18 when a car driven by Sen. Kennedy plunged off (Continued on Page 6-A, Col. 8) circuit Court of Appeals' ruling and the resulting Health, Education and Welfare Department guidelines as unAmerican and said they violated the Civil Rights Act, which specifically prohibits the busing of students to achieve racial balance.

The Citizens for Quality Education, who marched to the Capitol for a rally three weeks ago, have also called on Gov. McKeithen for a special session to deal with the school integration problem. This is a white group opposed to repealing of the freedom of choice policy by the courts and HEW.

Whites have been joined by Negroes in some areas in pushing for a return to freedom of choice (under which a student could apply for attendance at any school in a parish, but with the decision left up to the School Board). This has happened in some areas where an all-Negro high school has been integrated.

Most school boards, seeking to avoid racial strife which would delay school openings, have added Negro teachers to staffs and made other concessions, but as in the case of the Bogalusa system the Negroes protested this move and black and white teachers had to be given armed escorts to classrooms.

Must Attend

Meanwhile, the Louisiana Teachers Association, representing the white teachers in the state, are on record in opposition to legislative repeal of the compulsory school attendance law, which says children up to 16 must attend school.

Criminal Action

The law provides for criminal action against parents who condone absence from school of their children.

Motorcycle Clubs

The motorcycle clubs were given much of the credit for averting violence and were praised for aiding in directing traffic.

Fatigue was apparent yesterday among the festival set, with many making themselves comfortable in the dusty grass.

Joe Kapelow, stage manager for the festival, said that the crowd was behaving very well considering its size, adding that the people of Prairieville were being very kind to their welcome to the festival goers.

The schedules of the rock groups were invariably changed as fans demanded encore after encore from each group.

Among groups appearing yesterday were Santana, the Youngbloods, Oliver, Cat Mother and All Night Newsboys. Chicago Transit Authority, It's a Beautiful Day and Tyrannosaurus Rex.

The Grateful Dead and the Jefferson Airplane arrived for appearances shortly after midnight last night, as did three other rock bands.

A spectacular flower drop that was to have taken place during the performance of the Pot Likker group missed its target due to the foul up in the schedule and the flowers were dropped over empty fields.

Drugs in use over the three-day event, officials said, included LSD, marijuana and other mixtures with names such as "strawberry dome" and "purple goliath."

Thirty-seven disguised agents of the Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Department, headed by Capt. Donald Reed, wound their way through the festival rounding up individuals for possession and sale of narcotics.

Reed said, however, they were mostly after those making the sales.

Arrested Yesterday

Among those arrested yesterday were:
—Thomas Eddie Rivera, 24, Pine Bluff, Ark., possession of marijuana.

—Bruce Lee Stuart, 17, Johnson City, Tenn., sale and possession of marijuana.

—Terry Martin, 22, Los Angeles, Calif., sale and possession of marijuana and possession of LSD.

—Michael Polizzi, 17, Metairie, sale and possession of LSD and possession of marijuana.

—Dennis Hall, 17, Atlanta, sale and possession of LSD.

—Leandro Martinez, 19, illegal sale and possession of LSD.

Also apprehended for drug sales yesterday were two juveniles from Mississippi.

AIR CAVALRY

No Resistance

The Air Cavalrymen met no resistance as they drove into the triple-canopied jungles, and fighting reportedly appeared to taper off at least for the time being.

Although fighting picked up again in the area between Saigon and the Cambodian border, there was no indication that the upsurge was the new high point in the enemy's fall campaign which U.S. officers have been predicting for this week.

Today is the 24th anniversary of Ho Chi Minh's proclamation of the Vietnamese Republic, and American officers expect the enemy to mark the occasion with stepped-up attacks. But the action reported today resulted from allied sweeps and patrols rather than aggressive enemy action.

Government headquarters reported that other South Vietnamese forces killed 18 enemy soldiers with claymore mines Monday night in an ambush 31 miles northwest of Saigon.

In War Zone C, 65 miles northwest of Saigon, helicopter-borne troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed with small units of North Vietnamese troops and reported killing 52 of the enemy. Three Americans were reported wounded.

Dive bombers and helicopter gunships from the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry regiment destroyed 72 enemy bunkers and killed 16 troops with machine guns and rockets in an area two miles from the Cambodian border and 70 miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. headquarters said. No American casualties were reported.

Attacks Lessen

The enemy command launched its fall campaign Aug. 12 with attacks on 150 allied bases and South Vietnamese towns, most of them in an arc 55 miles northwest to 80 miles northeast of Saigon. But enemy attacks dropped off sharply

Say All Pleased With Action at Area Pop Event

PRAIRIEVILLE, La. (AP)—They were happy. The thousands who came from miles away to the rock music of the New Orleans Pop Festival here.

They were happy. The area merchants, miles from nowhere, who reaped a harvest from the flower children and were astonished at their unexpected good behavior.

They were happy, too. The musicians who said the response was greater than they had expected.

Not so happy were the 37 arrested for some violation involving drugs. Maj. John R. Thomas, supervisor of the narcotics division of State Police, said at least 116 undercover agents were operating at the festival.

The hard rock of Canned Heat and the harder, pure acid rock of Iron Butterfly stood out among the stand-out aggregations. Some thought the festival reached its peak Sunday and left early but the hard core fans stayed until the last note drifted away in the warm Louisiana air early this morning.

Mrs. Edith Webb, owner of Webb's Grocery, said she had done two weeks' business in three days and that other area merchants had fared as well.

"All of us were really terrified at first," she said. "Everyone in the area had been building up what could happen. They had us believing they'd butcher our cows for barbecue or paint flowers on them."

But she said the young rock fans had been perfect customers, had even helped her open the store one morning.

Some property owners near the festival became what other Prairieville residents called "hippie scalpers" by capitalizing on the parking problem, charging as much as $5 per car.

The sheriff's office and the promoters had estimated the crowds at between 20,000 and 35,000 but Monday both settled on 17,000.

General revenue sharing is in same category—the governors have been urging it upon states for five years. President Nixon has recommended a limited, but increasing, amount of federal tax receipts turned back to the states. The idea was generally opposed, but the sums involved were not. Gov. Frank L. Bank Official's Funerals Are Today

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. today for Charles R. Trask, 52, president and loan officer of the Louisiana National Bank, who died at Baton Rouge General Hospital at 1:45 p.m. Saturday.

Services were held at First Presbyterian Church, with burial following in Resthaven Gardens of Memory. Rabenhorn Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Trask, a veteran of World War II, joined the bank in 1937. He was past president and board member of the Baton Rouge Chapter of the American Institute of Banking and from 1944-45, served as president of the Credit Bureau of Baton Rouge.

'Better Than Expected'

Sheriff Cites Festival Conduct

PRAIRIEVILLE, La. (AP)—This hamlet attracted some 30,000 youths Sunday to the New Orleans Pop Festival. Many stripped to the barest essentials of clothing and a few were completely nude in the hot Louisiana sun.

Dust was everywhere. It accumulated an inch thick on the blankets and sleeping bags occupied Sunday night by the packed crowd.

Music, the mind-bending, ear-defeating modern rock, lasted until 2 a.m. today. Another round of music starts later today.

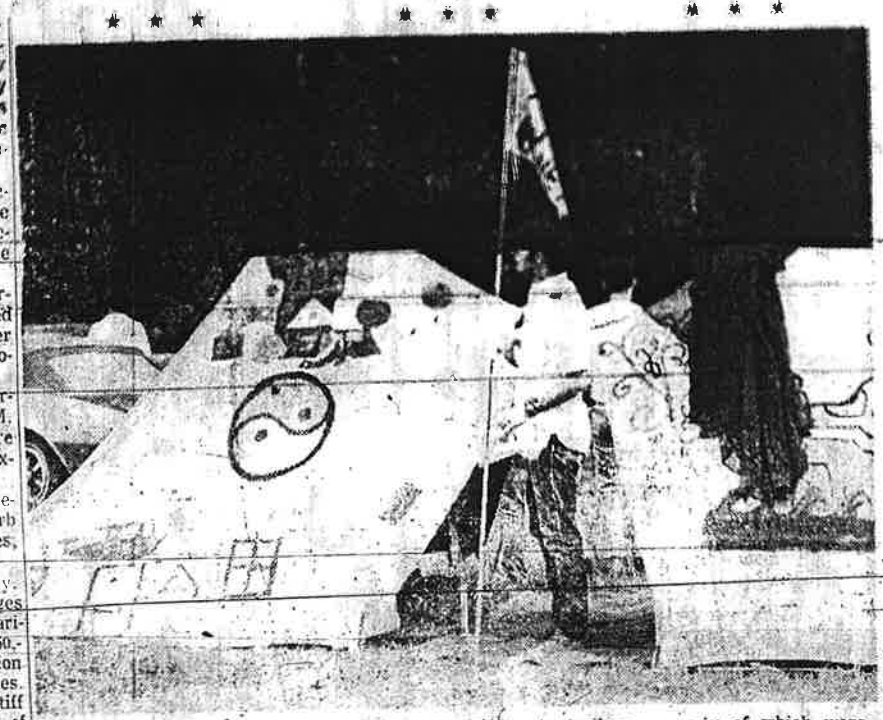

Authorities praised the overall behavior and Sheriff H. M. Waguespack said things were going "much better than I expected."

State and local law enforcement agents, all in civilian garb and many dressed like hippies, mingled in the crowd.

They made 12 arrests Sunday. All 12 were booked on charges of selling and possessing marijuana. They were held on $50,000 bond each at the Ascension Parish jail at nearby Gonzales.

Louisiana law provides a stiff sentence for those convicted of selling marijuana — up to 30 years in jail.

start Sunday, traffic jammed U.S. 90. State police said cars were backed up seven miles on the road. There were a few minor auto accidents.

Janis Joplin, the Iron Butterfly, Country Joe and the Fish, Canned Heat, Clearwater Revival and the Grateful Dead were the featured attractions. There were many lesser known performers who kept the cacophony constant.

Some 15,000 paid $6.50 each to get inside the enclosure of the Louisiana International Speedway to see the performers. John Gonzales, chief deputy for the Ascension Parish sheriff's office, said another 15,000 were outside.

"It looks like some come for the picnic only or to do whatever they do," said one police officer.

Five doctors, from medical schools at New Orleans 50 miles away, manned a makeshift infirmary.

One physician said about 30 had been treated for "bad trips." The doctor said LSD was being adulterated "with other things to potentiate it."

The mixing, he added, caused trip-takers to be "floridly psychotic and frightened."

Orgiastic Dance
A young man and woman caused quite a stir at one point. Dressed scantily, they started an orgiastic dance. They took off their clothing and simulated sexual love. It was interrupted when they were trampled by a growing circle of onlookers pressing forward to watch.

There was a tight curfew in nearby Gonzales, the closest town with any stores. Merchants muttered they were losing business from festival followers.

Mayor Charles Pasqua said the curfew was imposed because of Saturday night racial incidents and not because of the influx of people.

Sheriff Waguespack said a grocery store at Darrow burned early Sunday because of a firebomb attack. He said there were two other firebomb attacks but the blazes were snuffed out. Authorities said the trouble stems from stepped-up school integration as a result of recent federal court rulings.

Brisk Business
Concession stands at the festival did a brisk business — beer, soft drinks, sandwiches, watermelons sold for $1 each. There were many wine drinkers. Some guzzled from beer. Others squirmed into beer months from plastic containers. The red liquid dripped from their chins to bare chests.

They seem to make their own problems," said an officer. "But there have been some minor friction among the crowd."

Among those arrested for marijuana sale and possession, a woman said, was James Joseph McNamara of Princeton, N.J.

"Junk Mail" Firms
The newspaper also said Brewster is under investigation by a federal grand jury in Baltimore on allegations he received money from so-called "junk mail" firms to fight against postal rate increases.

Brewster, reportedly in Ireland, was unavailable for comment. Long, commenting on the allegation at a news conference in Baton Rouge Saturday, said it was a "cock and bull" story.

The Post said records on file with the Clerk of the House and in Annapolis, Md., showed the Seafarers contributed $30,000 to Brewster's campaign for reelection. It quoted a Seafarers officer in New York as saying: "I know we supported Brewster in the campaign, but I don't know of anything like this."

Wanted Removal
The union wanted the marriage commission removed from the Department of Commerce and set up an independent agency under the president, the Post said.

In its Sunday edition, the Post said Brewster allegedly received campaign funds from Spiegel, Inc., a Chicago mail order firm, when Congress raised third class bulk mail rates from three to four cents a piece on mailings of more than 250,000 pieces.

A check from the corporation allegedly was given to a committee handling Brewster's campaign finance, the Post said. Federal law prohibits corporations from making political contributions.

King Idris is childless and designated a nephew, 35-year-old Hassan el-Rida, as crown prince. But the monarch has given him no opportunity to display political or executive abilities.

No Word of Prince
There was no word of the prince's whereabouts.

Although Libya has a parliament with an elected lower house, the king controlled the government and appointed the cabinet. Last year he ousted Prime Minister Abdel Hamid al-Bakouch, an energetic, forward-looking lawyer, and replaced him by Wanis el-Qadafi, a tribal leader who had held a number of ministerial posts.

Broadcasts today made no mention of Qaddafi.

A Libyan wing of the Baath Socialist party has considerable strength in the country and is believed to have links with the radical Baath regime in Syria.

The political leanings of the army group which took over today were not known yet, however, King Idris is at Bursa, a hot springs spa in Western Turkey, where he is under treatment for a foot ailment.

A spokesman said the king had no statement about the coup.

Libya's policies have been mainly pro-Western, and it lowered the United States and Britain to maintain military bases on its territory despite nationalist pressure to kick them out.

The government last year ordered a $240 million air defense system from Britain, including high-end low-level anti-aircraft missiles.

Its air force is equipped partly with American F5 Freedom fighter jets.

New Arms Deal
In April, a new arms deal with Britain was announced under which Libya is getting an unspecified number of Cheifain battle tanks, the latest model Britain is producing.

The deal, which also included anti-aircraft guns and artillery, was reckoned at $100 million.

Despite the close economic and military associations between Libya and the West, the outbreak of the 1967 Arab-Israeli war and Egypt's charges that the United States and Britain were fighting alongside the Israelis produced a violent reaction in Libya.

In mid-August, the hospital announced that Hendrick, a former book publisher's assistant, had contracted a lung infection. He was reported seriously ill a few days ago and died following a period of further deterioration during the night.

Their four countries met to discuss the 1967 war with Israel, and sources in Cairo said they would coordinate their military strategies and plans to meet with Israeli threats.

Burglary Try Brings Arrest Of Local Man
Willie Mitchell, 17, of 142 N. 46th St., was booked with attempted aggravated burglary early this morning after city police said they apprehended him running from Colonial Grocery, 1545 N. Aradian West.

Officers Ray Brooks and Paul Weideman said Mitchell fired two shots at Weideman as the two police officers attempted to apprehend him.

Mitchell was apprehended with the assistance of a police dog. The officers said Mitchell had a .22-caliber pistol with him and a screw driver stuck in his belt.

The two officers discovered Mitchell upon checking out a report that a burglary was in progress at the grocery.

Syria Detains 2 Men

4 Israeli Women On Hijacker

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syrian government today released the four Israeli women who were aboard an American airliner hijacked to Damascus by two Arabs. But it held onto the two Israeli men who were among the passengers and gave no indication what it planned for them.

A chartered Italian airliner flew from Rome to Damascus and picked up the women. They were flown to Athens to catch a plane to Tel Aviv.

The Italian plane also brought the president of Trans World Airlines, F.C. Wiser, and other top officials of the company to Damascus. A spokesman for the airline said they would remain to discuss "other aspects" of the hijacking Friday of the TWA plane.

The Israeli government warned it was holding Syria responsible for the fate of the Israelis and said it insisted on their unconditional release. There was speculation that the Syrians might try to trade the two men for Syrian prisoners in Israel.

The other 95 passengers and the 12 crew members of the Trans World Airlines jet were released Saturday and most of them flew to Athens or Rome aboard a special Italian airliner. TWA said the pilot, Capt. Dean Carter, would remain in Damascus until the Israelis were released.

Announcing the release of the Israeli women, the Syrian government said investigation of the men was over. It made no mention of the two men, who reported being held at the Defense Ministry in Damascus.

Release of all Israeli hostages was pressing for the release of all the Israeli hostages.

The other passengers still in Damascus were a Filipino American, Mrs. Camille Schuler of Leonardtown, Md. who broke a leg jumping out of the plane, and her four children. A feast was put on the woman's leg, and she planned to continue her journey soon to the East to visit her parents.

Capt. Carter and a TWA engineer were given the plane an extensive checkup. Its front section was ripped open shortly after it landed by a bomb set by the hijackers.

The Arab man and woman who commandeered the airline Friday shortly after it left Rome apparently were still in custody in Damascus, although Syrian officials gave no information about them.

The couple belongs to the Pop also Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab guerrilla group that specializes in head-line making attacks outside Israel. Other Developments Elsewhere, there were these developments in the Israeli-Arab crisis:

President Nureddin Atassi of Syria arrived in Cairo for a small summit meeting with President Gamal Abdel Nasser, King Hussein of Jordan and President Ahmed Hassan Bakir of Iraq. Their four countries met to discuss the 1967 war with Israel, and sources in Cairo said they would coordinate their military strategies and plans to meet with Israeli threats.

Thousands of Iraqi business-routine and tourists left Lebanon boats, by plane or road, complying with an order from Baghdad that Saturday for all Iraqis to leave Lebanon within 24 hours. Trio of Pop Festivals in U.S. Youth Charged Cap Summer Fun for Youths With Smashing School Windows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The music was over and gone today in Lewisville, Tex., Tenn., Wash., and Prairieville, La., residents of the three small towns had one surefire topic of conversation to last until next summer — last weekend's pop music festival.

Drugs, nudity and noise were in abundance at all three festivals, but police reported no major disturbances, although there were arrests for drug offenses.

In Lewisville, nearly 200,000 attended the three-day Texas Pop Festival, where one man died of the plus-90-degree heat, another was killed in a traffic accident and a three-year-old girl was taken to the hospital suffering from the effects of LSD.

Baby Born — In Tenino, the Sky River Rock Festival and Lighter Than Air Fair ended Monday night after drawing 30,000 enthusiasts. One child was born and three couples were "married" in unorthodox ceremonies during the three-day fair.

In Prairieville, 17,000 showed up on the final night of the three-day New Orleans Pop Festival. Temperatures at the festival were described as "boiling hot." In a lake near the Texas festival, some fans swam nude for a time, until Lewisville Mayor Sam Houston ordered it stopped because of the crowds coming to gawk.

Took Off Bra — At the Washington festival, a young woman peeled off her brassiere and told spectators: "That's what I feel like doing." Janis Joplin, the Iron Butterfly, Country Joe and the Fish, Canred Heat, Clearwater Revival and the Greatful Dead were the featured performers for the last day of the New Orleans festival, which for several hours backed up traffic for seven miles on U.S. 61.

At all the festivals shops sprang up to sell such items as candles and exotic foods. Trucks brought in thousands of gallons of water and carried out tons of trash daily. On England's tiny Isle of Wight, clean-up operations began Monday for a huge festival that attracted 100,000 fans to hear American folk singer Bob Dylan and others. The festival ended Sunday.

Shoplifting Arrest Reported at Holmes — Mickey Waller, 26, of 275 North Street, was arrested at 2:30 p.m. Saturday by city police and booked with felony theft in connection with a shoplifting made at D. H. Holmes, 713 E. Main Street.

City police officers said Miss Waller was caught taking a pair of slacks from the store.

Jefferson Avenue to Be Closed for 3 Weeks — Jefferson Avenue between 31st and 32nd Streets will be closed for about three weeks for improvements beginning today, it was announced by the city traffic engineer's office.

NEW DELHI — India is exporting roses to France.

City police yesterday afternoon arrested Floyd Bertel, 32, 908 E. Johnson, on a charge of criminal mischief in connection with an incident in which Bertel is alleged to have broken some windows at McKinley Senior High School, 1011 E. McKinley Street.

Robert Louis Price said that witnesses reported Bertel broke out the windows with his shoe.

Actor-Singer Is New Father — PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Singer-actor Bobby Rydell became a father Monday.

His wife, Camille, 26, gave birth to their first child, a seven-pound boy, at St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center. The Rydells, married last October, live in suburban Pennsylvania. He recently returned from Australia and Hong Kong where he made a movie with Nancy Kwan, "The Girl from Peking."

Two Are Held In Incidents On Highland

City police last night arrested two young Negroes following an incident at the intersection of Highland Road and Albee Street.

Officers Douglas Lovett and Charles Gibson were both slightly injured in the scuffles with one of the two men, Ralph K. Holmes, 22, 243 Sonora St., who was charged with disturbing the peace and resisting officers.

The officers said they were called to the intersection to investigate reports that Leonard Andrews, 18, of 325 South Boulevard, was disturbing the peace by yelling at cars and blocking traffic at the intersection.

While the officers were talking to Andrews, they said, Holmes came out of the nearby cafe and interfered with them.

Holmes was placed under arrest and scuffled with the officers. They said they used chemical mace to subdue him. He later caused another disturbance while being booked and placed in jail, the officers said.

Andrews was charged with disturbing the peace when he showed up later at the police department while Holmes was being booked.

Officer Gibson suffered a strained finger and officer Lovett lost a filling from a jaw tooth in scuffles with Holmes.

Three Brothers' Card Game Ends In Knife Fray

A poker game yesterday between three brothers led to a fight in which one of the brothers was cut with a knife and another was arrested on a charge of aggravated battery, city police said today.

Bobby D. Day, 26, 3746 Prescott Road, was charged with aggravated battery in connection with the incident. His brother, David Day, 4578 Byron Street, received knife wounds in the fight which followed a poker game at his home, officers said.

Another brother, Richard Day, was also involved in the game, police said.

Two Teenagers Drown in River

BASTROP, La. (AP) — Two Bastrop teenagers drowned Monday while swimming in the Ouachita River just above Sterlington.

Morehouse Parish Sheriff's office identified the boys as Ladell Goulart, 18, and Charles Peoples, 18, both of Bastrop. Peoples was an all-state half-back at Morehouse High School in Bastrop last year.

Sheriff's deputies said Goulart apparently got a case of cramps and Peoples tried to save him. Both of them drowned in the struggle.

The bodies were recovered late Monday.

JENA, La. (AP)—A Jena dentist, Dr. W. M. Floyd, won Democratic nomination as state representative from the 45th district of Winn and LaSalle Parishes Saturday.

Complete unofficial returns gave Floyd 5,152 votes in the runoff primary election to 2,762 for Hardy Junior Smith of Winnfield, operator of a nursing home.

The election is to the 2½ years left in the term of Ashton Collier, who resigned.

Agnew Coming To New Orleans For GOP Event

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be in New Orleans Oct. 19 and 20, chiefly to attend a $100 a plate dinner organized for him by Louisiana Republicans.

State GOP Chairman Charles deGravelles of Lafayette said the dinner is aimed at bringing state and local leadership closer to the Nixon administration.

Agnew and his wife were also to attend the New Orleans Saints-Baltimore Colts football game.

deGravelles said a "special event," which he did not explain, was being planned for Agnew the second day of his visit.

Man Serious After Falling Out of Truck

A 62-year-old man was in serious condition Saturday night in the intensive care unit of Baton Rouge General Hospital after he fell out of a truck as it turned a corner, city police said.

Officers identified the man as Willy Williams, of 1096 N. 48th St. They said they were called to the hospital by hospital authorities but they were unable to learn where the accident occurred.

Firing of John Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) Roy Wilkins criticized the Nixon administration Saturday for not backing cease-and-desist suits by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission against the great social forces involving black people.

Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, made the comment when asked if he thinks Nixon should get rid of Mitchell.

"I never said so," Wilkins replied, "but it wouldn't be a bad idea."

As for Nixon's own attitude on civil rights, Wilkins said, "I think Mr. Nixon made certain commitments to the Southern politicians 'before' last year's Republican National Convention in Miami and perhaps since Miami."

Nixon has made some political compromises, Wilkins said, "and I am not sure but what they aren't dictated by political reality. The Republican party has to build a base. The only place it can build a base is in the South."

Wilkins was interviewed on Metromedia's television program "Evans-Novak Report" which was taped for Sunday broadcast.

Wilkins was asked if he has "a ghost of a chance" of persuading the Senate not to confirm U.S. Circuit Judge Clement Haynsworth as a Supreme Court associate justice.

"Well, until the final vote is taken, I think everyone has a chance," Wilkins replied.

And while Haynsworth's opinions in civil rights cases are the focus of interest, Wilkins said "it believes that his

Word Expected On Naming of Md. Sen. Gore

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—The Western White House was expected to announce soon the appointment of Maryland State Sen. Louise Gore as the U.S. ambassador to UNESCO.

A spokesman said Miss Gore, a prominent wealthy Marylander and director of the women's activities of the United Citizens for Nixon-Agnew during the last campaign, "is very well qualified."

The announcement was expected in time for Miss Gore to make the opening of the UNESCO session in Paris on Sept. 15.

Playwright and former ambassador Clare Booth Luce reportedly was sought for the job but turned it down.

Miss Gore was not expected to resign from the state Senate.

Friday, President Nixon named former child movie star Shirley Temple Black as a member of the U.S. delegation to the 24th United Nations General Assembly.

Police patrolled the camp grounds around the race track but stayed in their air conditioned cars and did not venture into the crowds. Festival officials, however, warned the audience against narcotics.

"In case you have not heard, narcotics are prohibited by federal and state laws," a tongue-in-cheek program announcement said. "Plainclothes detectives will be in the crowd. For your own safety, please avoid the obvious functions of drugs."

The New Orleans Pop Fes- tival got into full swing Sun- day with crowd estimates ranging from "there just ain't no tellin'" to 20,000 and 30,000.

The 135-acres surround- ing the Baton Rouge Inter- national Speedway was overflowing with com- munes of brightly painted tents and makeshift dwell- ings with their inhabitants coming from every state in the union to hear their rock idols and to join in a few days of peace and music.

The craft shops and con- cession stands lining the out- perimeter of the speedway which gave the appearance of a psychedelic county fair, also provided the thousands with amusement from buy- selling or trading goods to card readings.

Throng of fans jammed the infield of the speedway "doing their thing" as rock groups in- cluding the Byrds, Canned Heat, Country Joe and the Fish, Young Bloods, It's A Beautiful Day, and many others smothered the grounds with electrified sound waves. The louder and more intense the music became, the more the people wanted. Most of the groups had difficulty ending their portion of the show as the crowds begged for endless en- cores.

Military - Triumvirate Takes Power in Bra

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The government announced Sunday night that President Arthur da Costa e Silva had been stricken by a "circulatory crisis" and that a triumvirate of military ministers had taken over temporary rule.

Informed sources said Costa e Silva, 66, who has ruled Latin-America's largest country as virtual dictator since last December, had suffered a severe stroke.

Some Crazy, Some Busted; Most Playing

By GIBBS ADAMS

PRAIRIEVILLE — Some freak out; some get busted; mostly, the thousands at the New Orleans Pop Festival are kids on a lark for the Labor Day weekend.

Narcotics agents mingled among the youngsters and by late Sunday night, a dozen persons were jailed in neighboring Gonzales for selling and possession of narcotics.

By nightfall Sunday, five young psychiatrists who have set up shop in a tin shed on the grounds of the race track had seen about 30 whose trips were really bad.

But, the East Ascension Hos- pital in Gonzales didn't have a single admission from the race track, though the emergency-room was doing a land office business treating cuts and lacerations and occasionally trying to undo what illegal narcot- ics, wine and booze had done to the worst of the trip-takers.

Rumors spread that small amounts of strichnine were being mixed with LSD to in- crease hallucinations. And, the doctor said some were mixing speed (methadone) with LSD.

Outside Cal's Club near the speedway, two deputies came on a youngster who said he was seeing all kinds of colors. He reported he had nothing to drink but wine and Pepsi. But, after a shot at the hospital in Gonzales that righted his vision and cleared his head, he re- membered sipping from a can- teen with a group of unknowns. (Continued on Page 6-A, Col. 3)

Road Deaths Are Climbing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deaths on the nation's high- ways soared to 393 Sunday, the second day of the three-day Labor Day weekend.

Roads running through an area stretching from the upper Midwest to the southern Rockies were swept by heavy showers. Rain-slicked highways also were reported in sections of the Southeast.

The holiday weekend period began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Monday.

In a nationwide radio broadcast, the government said only that the president suffered from a circulatory crisis, that he was recover- ing and that he had con- sented to the takeover. The statement said he would be unable to resume his duties for some time.

An "institutional act" ef- fected during an emergency meeting of the Cabinet Sun- day afternoon resulted in the transfer of power. The triumvirate is composed of Gen. Aurelio Lyra Tavares, army minister; Adm. Au- gusto Rademaker, navy min- ister, and Brig. Marcio de Souza e Mello, air force minister.

Costa e Silva arrived here Friday from Brasilia, the cap- ital, and was reported then to be suffering from a head cold. There were no further official statements about his health un- til the radio broadcast Sunday night.

Unofficial reports said he suf- fered the stroke Saturday morn- ing.

Bypasses Constitution

Creation of the triumvirate bypasses the Brazilian constitu- tion, which states that the vice president would take over if the president is not able to carry out his duties.

Vice President Pedro Aleixo, however, is a comparative un- known who was selected for his job as a compromise civilian candidate. There had been re- ports earlier Sunday that the military would oppose any take- over by Aleixo.

The announcement said the military trio will "remain faith- ful to the ideals of the 1964 revo- lution," which is the term used by the military when referring to the ouster of left-leaning President Joao Goulart.

The three military men said they will undertake only mea- sures needed for administration and maintenance of public or- der.

Costa e Silva's illness created speculation that the announce- ment of constitutional reform and reopening of the Brazilian congress, which was to be made next week, would be delayed.

swim — fully clothed.

While law enforcement officers mainly left the crowd alone, the police weren't taking the narcotics problem lightly.
And, Judge Leon S. LeSeuer, who serves the district where the race track is located set bonds at $50,000 for those who were being processed near the grounds and then moved later to the jail in Gonzales.

Sheriff Hickley Waguespack said the crowd at the Pop Festival is orderly and there had been no arrests for fighting or disturbances at the race track.

Auxiliary police reinforced the sheriff's staff, along with uniformed officers and plain clothesmen from state police, the sheriffs' offices of East Baton Rouge, Livingston, Jefferson and Ouachita Parishes, and city police departments of Baton Rouge, New Orleans, Gonzales and Sorrento.

Undercover agents were watching the crowds closely for narcotics, and the number of arrests for marijuana was mounting as the evening wore on.

Chief Deputy John Gonzales estimated the crowd at 30,000, some 15,000 inside the race track gates and 15,000 roaming the acres and acres of dusty and grassy parking lots and nearby fields.

Traffic Movement Slow
The constant shuffle of walking hippies, dressed in the most colorful garb ever donned in this rural community, kept traffic moving at a slow pace—both inside the race track grounds and on the adjoining state highways. This made the crowd count difficult.

But "they've got to be good drivers," a state policeman commented, noting no major traffic accidents in the immediate vicinity of the Pop Festival. The roadways are constantly clogged and race track neighbors have had a time keeping the cars from parking on their properties.

In fact, several deputies have been moving alongside the roads to try to keep the cars off lawns. "They go through ditches—anywhere," a deputy said.

Motorcycle club members joined in directing the traffic and keeping the cars and motorcycles on the grounds moving along—ever so slowly.

Some friction between motorcyclists and others was reported, but the Festival-goers apparently straightened out their own troubles before they come to the attention of policemen.

A few persons sustained lacerations from a thrown bottle or other such mishap, and occasional shoving matches sometimes resulted in minor injuries.

Sunburn, headaches, cut feet—these were the common maladies among Prairieville's new population, according to the doctors at the infirmary established on the grounds. Several cots and mattresses were available there for those whose drug dosage was too much to stand.

Sheer exhaustion felled one or two who dropped by the infirmary for a nap there. Some youngsters, from Jacksonville came by with a fellow who wouldn't talk—his eyes were glassy and he was out, but the doctor said all the vital signs were there. His buddies said he took some STP (a form of methadrine) and had instructed them to see that he took his insulin shot for his diabetes early Sunday. He did, but apparently had eaten little during the day.

The doctors kept him under observation several hours and expected him to all right by daybreak Monday.

But the worst case they encountered, the doctors said, was a 24-year-old dental student whose friends said he was already loaded when he chuga-lugged a full bottle of scotch, downing it in 10 minutes. He was out like a light when they loaded him in an ambulance and sent him on to Gonzales just before dark Sunday. Later, the emergency room there said he was doing okay and would recover.

"If we could just get them to wear their shoes," one of the medical men lamented, "we wouldn't have so many cut feet."

Shoes weren't all they were taking off. As the last days of August heat bore down, the youngsters wore as little as possible. In fact, some wore nothing on brief occasions, but most clothing at least covered the vitals.

A medical source said the "bad trips" came from LSD adulterated with other things to potentiate it, causing the kids to be "floridly psychotic and frightened."

The Gonzales jail was getting crowded Sunday night, what with the marijuana boys and violators of the curfew imposed in Gonzales because of racial problems.

But, Sheriff Waguespack said his jail in Gonzales would handle about 40 and if the drunk tank and cells there overflowed, he'd move some across the river to Donaldsonville and then call on East Baton Rouge Parish to accommodate some of the prisoners.

One regular at the Gonzales jail complained his cell had already been taken.

Authorities said they had no major problems in making arrests at the festival. Some tried to run, but the narcotics officers, dressed like hippies, chased them down and handcuffed them.

State police said they had some "impossible" calls during the first big day of the festival.
A Baton Rouge widow said her 13-year-old daughter left home with a bedroll, and she wanted the officers to find one little girl among the 30,000.

A Florida man was here looking for his daughter, who reportedly took the car of his employer and headed for Louisiana.

Some of the crowd was converting "International Speedway" bumper stickers so that they just read, "Speed" and were pasting them on vehicle bumpers and on their own clothing.

place, little, if any violence erupted.
It seemed as though the entire theme of the festival was "everybody get together." And get together they did, sharing their homes, food, beverages and anything else they had.
Although the authorities were out in force, only a dozen arrests resulted and an attitude of courtesy seemed to prevail in all cases. Many patrolman could be seen policing camper areas on horseback, an animal which came in very handy as it was virtually impossible to either get a vehicle in or out of some of the areas.
There was an abundance of food and drink and other supplies and everyone seemed to be comfortable as the hot sun beamed down unrelentingly throughout the daylight hours of the pop fest.
As night came small fires sprang up over the ground which some used to cook with while others used them just for light and to burn incense, which scented the air in abundant. Others began to make ready for bed as many camped for the night in the infield.
However, the music continued and the fans became more enthralled as the huge sound system blasted out more electronic vibrations which were scheduled to continue until 4 a.m. and the crowds grew larger.
One of the rock group members commented on one of the few muddy areas backstage by saying, "Hey man, looks like

British Official Arrives for Mideast Talks

CAIRO (AP) — George Thomson, British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, arrived in Cairo Saturday for talks on the Middle East. He will spend five days in Egypt.

Thomson began his first round of talks in a two-hour meeting with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad during which the two men "reviewed their governments' points of view on the Middle East crisis," a Foreign Ministry spokesman said.

Thomson told newsmen after the meeting: "We discussed a number of matters related to bilateral relations between the two countries, which are improving steadily."

He is to fly Sunday to visit Luxor and Aswan and return Tuesday for a meeting with Dr. Mahmoud Fawzi, President Nasser's adviser for foreign affairs.

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters landed 400 American Cavalrymen on a battlefield north of Saigon this afternoon to reinforce North Vietnamese commandos, battered for three days.

At least 26 of the South Vietnamese troops were reported killed, 120 were wounded and 17 were missing. Four American Green Beret advisers with the North Vietnamese also were wounded.

The number of North Vietnamese killed was not known yet. Officers in the field said allied forces had been unable to sweep the battlefield because "every time we go out we get in trouble."

The fighting began Sunday afternoon about 400 South Vietnamese commandos ran across a camp of an enemy divi-

Columnist Drew Pearson Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drew Pearson, whose controversial column often rocked Washington officialdom over the past four decades, died Monday at 71 of a heart ailment from which he had suffered for some time.

Two presidents have been among those who denounced Pearson in feuds on which the newspaper seemed to thrive.

Pearson had been in the hospital for several weeks but returned last Friday to his Maryland country home seemingly much improved. He was stricken just after riding around his farm with his stepson, Tyler Abell, former U.S. chief of protocol.

Rushed to Georgetown Hospital, Pearson was pronounced dead on arrival at 12:05 p.m. EDT.

Jack Anderson, who has co-authored "the Washington Merry-Go-Round" with Pearson for the past 10 years, said he had talked with the columnist Saturday and found him restless and eager to get back to work.

"He talked about helping me put out the columns, and intended to do some over the weekend," said Anderson.

Would Continue

As to the future of the column, now carried by 825 daily and weekly newspapers, Anderson said "it was Drew's idea that I would continue to write the column. He considered it an institution. So I'll carry on." Anderson began as a legman for Pearson 22 years ago.

Probably no other national columnist has lived in such a swirl of controversy as the tall, mustachioed Pearson. Yet, he was a mild-mannered man, a Quaker by religion and the originator of many humanitarian campaigns.

Among these causes was the Freedom Train after World War

II, which collected 700 carloads of food, valued at $40 million, for the people of France and Italy.

Wrecked Coast Begins Comeback

By MARGARET DIXON

GULFPORT — The Gulf Coast is down — 100 miles or more of it laid low by Hurricane Camille — but it is far from out. Already citizens, officials and federal agencies are laying plans to rebuild the once beautiful resort area.

But a visit to the Gulf Coast area over the Labor Day weekend just two weeks to the day since roaring winds and tides 25 to 30 feet high swept over the beautiful homes and once towering oaks and pines reveals that the road back is going to be a hard and slow one.

What impresses you when you see it and what you didn't quite realize from all the newspaper stories, the television reports and the radio accounts is the extent of Camille's damage. It extends for miles and miles from the west side of Waveland to beyond Ocean Springs and it stretches back from the beach itself for several blocks. There is hardly a house or a building in that entire area which has not sustained damage and many structures are just rubbish, debris piled on top of concrete foundations which are themselves buckled and broken by the fury of the waves that Camille washed in from the Gulf.

Clear Out Debris

Not that there is any lack of activity. At Waveland, and Clermont Harbor, for example, two of the first communities reached from New Orleans, householders were busily piling up limbs of trees, rubble, pieces of wood, torn mattresses, clothing and what have you. Streets were pretty well cleared on this second weekend after the storm and for the first time a steady stream of cars were rolling along the Gulf Coast or at least along the one side of the road opened to traffic.

PRAIRIEVILLE — It was no more than you would expect from this type of thing.

"It looks like they're making an effort to behave even better than at home."

"We haven't had any real trouble."

Those were typical comments of authorities and workers at the New Orleans Pop Festival as the three-day event drew gradually to a close Labor Day.

Out of crowd estimates ranging upwards of 30,000, there were about 35 arrests on charges of narcotics reported, and authorities indicated that under violations, the rock fans were keeping intact their record of settling their differences outside the realm of the law.

"If they're back out there in the field, and they settle it among themselves, then ... commented one officer.

One Day Drier

The dusty, smelly, humid, hot Louisiana International Speedway grounds remained jammed with thousands of noisy skimpily clad youths, a day drier forming a steady stream in and out of the stadium where the bands rocked on. They came from the nearby parking fields, where they had been in cars, tents, under blankets, or just lay in the dusty grass resting.

Most looked like they needed a lot of rest. They were tired, hungry, hot, mosquito and stinger bitten.

But the music went on, and was to continue until early morning hours. The top bands were scheduled to take the

for the 70s.

The central race in the world today," he said, "is neither an arms race nor a space race. It is the race between man and change. The central question is whether we are to be master of events, or the pawn of events."

New Spirit

Looking toward the nation's 200th anniversary in 1976, the President sounded a call for government at all levels and the people as individuals to unite in discovering a new spirit of '76.

And he said the first big need of his new strategy is to make government work.

The new strategy for the 70s," the President said, "also requires a strategy for peace, and I pledge to you tonight that we will have an effective strategy for peace."

"This means maintaining defense forces strong enough to keep the peace while not allowing wasteful expenditures to drain away resources we need for programs."

"It means limiting our commitments abroad to those we can prudently and realistically keep. It means helping other free nations maintain their own security, but not rushing in to do for them what they can and should do for themselves."

"It does not mean laying down our leadership. It does not mean abandoning our allies. It does mean forging a new structure of world stability in which the burdens as well as the benefits are fairly shared — a structure that does not rely on the strength of one nation, but that draws strength from all nations."

"An effective strategy for peace makes possible an effective strategy for meeting our domestic needs."

Psychedelic Junk Left At Festival

By ED DELANEY

PRAIRIEVILLE — The New Orleans Pop Festival ended early Tuesday after three days of peace, music and getting-together, leaving in its wake the appearance of a psychedelic junkyard with beer cans, ice chests, shoes, clothing, people and the fires of night still glittering.

Again the behavior of the fons was highly commended, as no violence was seen on Labor Day as the crowds slowly bled during the last day of the event to a nighttime peak.

Although the number was somewhat smaller than the previous day of rock music, the crowd had lost little of its enthusiasm. In fact, there did seem to be a buildup Sunday night as the group called Santana brought practically the entire audience at the International Speedway to its feet — dancing, squirming and doing their thing, or as one enthusiast said, "Man they're really cooking."

Encore After Encore

Santana, like all the groups playing Monday, was called back for encore after encore, but the Santana's electrified African beat made the "natives" of Prairieville's new population more restless than some of the other rock groups.

As the music continued into the night, some fans slept on blankets they brought into the infield of the speedway. And, every now and then, a twitching foot kept unconscious time to the music.

Much praise was bestowed on the motorcycle club — or as their leaders put it "bikers" — for their help in directing traffic and their tremendous part in keeping violence non-existent at the Pop Festival. The spectacle of a huge, weather-beaten the military and giving them a more forceful voice in government affairs that the Cabinet might provide.

Thieu apparently abandoned the idea, at least for the present. He said he would name Huong—who had been proposed to head the cabinet—as an unofficial special adviser to the president's office on important matters of state.

Sources within the national legislature said the new Cabinet was given notice as it came into existence that it would have to survive itself within three to six months, or go the route of its predecessor.

"This is a honeymoon period in which the Cabinet will be given the chance to show its ability to perform without interference," said one source. "But it must prove itself."

Road Deaths Exceed 555

The Labor Day traffic death toll passed the 555 mark Monday as pleasant weather sent thousands of motorists into the heavy stream of holiday traffic.

The death toll stood at 551 at 4 p.m. EDT.

Several multiple death accidents Sunday swelled the total but safety officials feared the homeward rush Monday night would send the fatality figure to a record high.

The highest Labor Day death toll was last year when 688 persons died in the three-day observance.

But the music went on, and was to continue until early morning hours. Five top bands were scheduled to take the stage. (Continued on Page 10-A, Col. 1)

As the music continues into the night, seven new digital synthesizers have brought into the studio as the speakers and lights glow and there's a pulsating from deep underneath time to the music.

Archeologists were frustrated by the materialistic walls — in other words, the walls of the "Museum" — that they found in dissecting the site and their fundamental part in keeping evidence non-existent at the top location. The specimens of a large, weather-beaten limestone on the rock, (56 in

BR Youth Confined in Probe Of Marine Racial Outbreak

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. — Pfc. Henry Hammond Jr., 20, Baton Rouge, is among nine additional men, all Negroes, confined for investigation into possible charges resulting from racially connected fights at Camp Lejeune July 20, the Marine Corps announced Friday.
 The fights left Cpl. Edward Bankston, 20, Picayune, Miss., dead and one other seriously injured. Bankston was married to the former Suellen Stafford, Baton Rouge.
 The Marines said that in addition to the nine confined, two others are being investigated

Poor Given Reassurance On Food Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Nixon's top economic adviser says there is no basis for complaints that the families will lose food aid immediately after the administration's break with the reform plan is approved.

Even if Congress rejects the administration's plan, many welfare reform plan backers, Dr. Jean Mayer said in an interview, it would be years before federal food assistance to the poor could be ended.

City Employees In Lake Charles Ask Bargaining

LAKE CHARLES — A group of Lake Charles city employees in what is called "one final peaceful effort" is demanding action on a request for collective bargaining.

The Lake Charles City Employees Wage Negotiating Committee, in a statement, said it will appear at the city council meeting at 5 p.m. Wednesday, seeking action on a bargaining request.

Signing the statement were H. L. Meeker, police representative and chairman, and C. E. George, fire representative and vice chairman.

"The outcome of this particular meeting will determine whatever future course of action which our rank and file members may choose to take therefore, we respectfully suggest that our city fathers give top priority to our request for fair collective bargaining procedures," the statement said.

It added, "to simply state that the hundreds of employees whom we represent are getting impatient and angry would be the year's biggest understatement."

The 1968-70 city budget is the council agenda Wednesday.

SAIGON (AP) — Helicopters landed 400 American Cavalrymen on a battlefield north of Saigon this afternoon to reinforce North Vietnamese commandos battered for three days.

At least 26 of the South Vietnamese troops were reported killed, 120 were wounded and 17 were missing. Four American Green Beret advisers with the South Vietnamese also were wounded.

The number of North Vietnamese killed was not known yet. Officers in the field said allied forces had been unable to sweep the battlefield because "every time we go out we get in trouble."

The fighting began Sunday when about 400 South Vietnamese commandos ran across a base camp of an enemy division.

College Dropouts Feared From Hurricane in Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The State College Board predicted Friday that Hurricane Camille's economic impact may force thousands to quit college unless they get massive financial assistance.

A board survey showed 400 students from the disaster area faced major financial problems requiring large-scale help if they are to stay in school.

A spokesman said there were 3,300 college students from the disaster area and 90 per cent of these would have to receive aid. The spokesman said about 25 per cent of those in need must have loans to defray tuition and other expenses, including up to 100 per cent of room and board costs plus food or clothing.

The student loan office board, said it conferred with federal officials in hopes of getting help from two sources within the next two weeks.

"We tried to get to Washington trying to get relief under the Guaranteed Student Loan program," he said. There are funds available guarantee loans but the interest rate has us in a bind.

Under that program, the government guarantees loans to students of up to $1,500 per school year at a maximum rate of 7 per cent interest, paid by the government while the student is in school.

"But with the prime interest rate at 8½ per cent now," Scott said, "banks are prone not to make new loans at 7 per cent."

He said a second program open to students was the National Defense Student Loan Fund but that Mississippi had exhausted its allocation of money under that program.

Some institutions in other states have not needed the money allocated to them and it could be rechanneled to help us in this disaster," Scott said.

He estimated the 7,400 Mississippi students would need about $7.5 million to prevent wholesale dropouts caused by finances. He said it probably would require both programs to produce that amount.

Scott estimated that it would take a minimum of $2,300 for the 1969-70 school year to finance the education of a student who had lost all his resources and his clothing.

"In these cases it would take the $1,500 guaranteed loan plus about $800 under a national defense grant to provide the necessary financing," he said. A junior college student could

Boats Perched On Levees Being Removed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Friday began the removal of some 80 boats stranded on the levees of the Mississippi River by the fury of Hurricane Camille.

A 230-ton derrick barge began the operation on the west bank of the levee at Fort Jackson. Colonel Herbert Haar, New Orleans district engineer, said 24 boats were perched on the levee at Fort Jackson.

He added that there are another 60 vessels on the Plaquemine
